

CHAPTER 12

Part V. From the Marginal Questions

1. Why would God be unjust in not punishing unbelievers but also in not graciously rewarding true believers?

2. What lesson can be learned from contrasting the Garden of Eden with the Garden of Gethsemane?

3. In what sense can Jesus be spoken of as a martyr? In what way is He far greater than a martyr?

4. The atheist sees a dark, meaningless, despairing “nothing” type ending to human life. How is the true Christian’s view the opposite?

5. Why is Christ’s everywhere-presence a great comfort to some, but a great fear to others?
